

News Release GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY Office of Public Relations/Washington, D.C. 20052/(202) 676-6460

MEMO TO: News and Assignment Desks

FROM: News and Public Affairs

The George Washington University

RE: Spring Commencements (There are 6)

Sunday, May 8

Approximately 1,650 degrees will be conferred at the May 8 commencements. Honorary Degrees will be awarded to Robert MacNeil, Gilbert Grosvenor and Alice Rivlin. Speakers, times, locations and photo opportunities are listed.

SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION--10:30 a.m.

Speaker: Robert MacNeil, of the MacNeil-Lehrer Report;

MacNeil will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service. Text available.

Location: Charles E. Smith Center, 600 22nd St., N.W.

Photos can be made in the Smith Center Director's Office

at 10 a.m.

PHOTO OPPORTUNITY—The U.S. Army "Old Guard" fife and drum corps in colonial uniform will lead the SGBA graduates from the Hall of Government (710 21st St.) one block to the Smith Center. The procession will begin at 10:15 a.m. and march down G Street to the Smith Center.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES -- 12:30 p.m.

Speaker: Gilbert M. Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society; Grosvenor will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service. Text available.

Location: Marvin Centre Theatre, 810 21st St., N.W.

Photos can be made in the Leggette Room, to the left of the theatre entrance at 12 noon.

SCHOOL OF PUBLIC AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS--1 p.m.

Speaker: James O. Gibson, president of the Eugene and Agnes Meyer

Foundation. Text available.

Location: Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Streets, N.W.

Photos can be made in the Dimock Gallery, off the Lisner

lower lounge at 12:30 p.m.

COLUMBIAN COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES--3 p.m.

Speaker: Alice M. Rivlin, director of the Congressional Budget Office;

Rivlin will receive an honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service.

Location: Charles E. Smith Center, 600 22nd St., N.W.

Photos can be made in the Smith Center Director's Office

at 2:30 p.m.

SCHOOL OF ENGINEERING AND APPLIED SCIENCE--4 p.m.

Speaker: Talbot S. Huff Jr., vice president and general manager of E-Systems, Melpar Division. Text available.

Location: Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Streets, N.W.

Photos can be made in the Dimock Gallery, off the Lisner

lower lounge at 3:30 p.m.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION AND HUMAN DEVELOPMENT--7 p.m.

Speaker: Anthony Cardinale, director of Section Six Schools, Office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense (Manpower, Reserve Affairs and Logistics).

Location: Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Streets, N.W.

Photos can be made in the Dimock Gallery, off the Lisner

lower lounge at 6:30 p.m.

PARKING--is available on GW Lot "A". Enter from F Street between 20th and 21st Streets, N.W. Present this memo to attendant or leave on dashboard.

PRESS PASS is attached.

WEEKEND TELEPHONES for more information: Jane Lingo, 234-3453; Robert Bové, 265-1316; David Taylor, 524-9891. The GW Office of News and Public Affairs phone number is 676-6460.

PICTURES of the main speakers and selected graduates can be made 30 minutes prior to the start of each ceremony.

Office of Public Relations/Washington, D.C. 20052/(202) 676-6460

MAILING DATE: MAY 10, 1983

CONTACT: ROBERT BOVÉ

676-6463 (Office) 265-1316 (Home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GW OFFERS SELF-IMAGE WORKSHOP

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- "Self-Image Through 'Color Me Beautiful,'" a workshop sponsored by The George Washington University Department of Human Kinetics and Leisure Studies, will be held on Tuesday, May 24, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m., in the Charles E. Smith Center, 22nd and G Streets, N.W. The workshop is part of a national program based on the popular book, Color Me Beautiful. For registration information Call Dr. Jeanne Snodgrass at 676-7122.

Office of Public Relations/Washington, D.C. 20052/(202) 676-6460

MAILING DATE: MAY 12, 1983

CONTACT: ROBERT BOVÉ

676-6463 (Office) 265-1316 (Home)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PROTECTING WHISTLEBLOWERS: CAN WE AND SHOULD WE?

LECTURE AT GW

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- "Protecting Whistleblowers: Can We and Should We" is the title of a lecture to be held at The George Washington University on Wednesday, June 1, at 8 p.m. in the GW Marvin Center, 3rd floor ballroom, 21st and H Streets, N.W. Administrative law expert Peter Raven-Hansen, a GW associate professor of law, will discuss whether whistleblowers--employees who have risked careers by going public with charges of government wrongdoing--can and should be protected from retaliation.

Raven-Hansen's speech is part of the First Wednesday

Lecture Series, held monthly and sponsored by GW's Alumni Relations Office. For information and necessary reservations, call 676-6435 at least a day in advance.

Office of Public Relations/Washington, D.C. 20052/(202) 676-6460

MAILING DATE: MAY 20, 1983

CONTACT: JANE LINGO

676-6460 (office) 234-3453 (evening)

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GRAPHICS BY MARC CHAGALL

The Dimock Gallery, Art Department The George Washington University

WHAT: GRAPHICS BY MARC CHAGALL

GW Alumni Trustee Howard P. Hoffman Collection

WHEN: THURSDAY, JUNE 9, THROUGH FRIDAY, JULY 29, 1983

10 A.M. TO 5 P.M. MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY

WHERE: DIMOCK GALLERY, THE GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

OFF THE LOWER LOUNGE OF LISNER AUDITORIUM 21ST AND H STREETS, N.W., WASHINGTON, D.C.

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Graphics by Marc Chagall will be on exhibition in George Washington University's Dimock Gallery June 9 to July 29. The rare group of etchings is on loan to the George Washington University Permanent Collection from GW Alumni Trustee Howard P. Hoffman. The group was acquired by collector Hoffman as a body of prints from the workshop of master printer Raymond Haasen. Forty-six etchings from the collection will be exhibited. They date from 1922 to 1960 and include selections from the series "Les Ames Mortes." Other etching subjects are acrobats, portraits and scenes of Russian village life.

There will be a lecture on Marc Chagall by GW Assistant Professor of Art

Melvin P. Laider Wednesday, June 8, at 6:30 p.m. in the lower lounge of Lisner Auditorium preceding an opening reception of the exhibition in the Dimock Gallery.

The exhibition is presented by the GW Dimock Gallery, Art Department and Alumni Relations Office.

News Release GEORGE WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY Office of Public Relations/Washington, D.C. 20052/(202) 676-6460

MEMO TO: News and Assignment Desks

FROM: News and Public Affairs

The George Washington University

RE: National Law Center Commencement

Sunday, May 22

The Honorable Patricia Wald, Judge, United States Court of Appeals, will deliver the address at the 1983 commencement of the The George Washington University National Law Center at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, May 22, in the Charles E. Smith Center, 22nd and G Streets, N.W. Judge Wald will also receive an honorary doctor of laws degree during the ceremonies at which approximately 420 degrees will be conferred. A text of Judge Wald's speech will be available on the day of graduation.

PHOTOS of the main speaker and selected graduates can be made 30 minutes prior to the start of each ceremony.

PARKING is available on GW Lot "A" Enter from F Street between 20th and 21st Streets, N.W. Present this memo to attendant or leave on dashboard.

PRESS PASS is attached

May 18, 1983

Robert Bové (202) 676-6463 (Office) (202) 265-1316 (Home)

Naji Younes (right) was honored at the commencement ceremonies of The George Washington University School of Engineering and Applied Science for completing the requirements for the undergraduate honors research program. The program was created to recognize and reward academically gifted students with a chance to enrich their professional engineering education. Mr. Younes is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science.

(Naji Younes' home address is 4849 Connecticut Ave., NW)

Jon Jannucci (center) was honored at the May commencement ceremonies of
The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science for winning second place in electrical engineering's Senior Design Awards competition. He is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and David Saperstein, (right) another award winning GW student from Washington.

(Jon Jannucci's home address is 2000 F Street, NW)

Bernard Barron (center) was honored at the May commencement ceremonies of The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science for winning third place in the mechanical engineering's Senior Design Awards competition. Mr. Barron is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and Rosalind Lee, (right) another GW student award winner.

Nabil Joseph Saade (center) was honored at the May commencement ceremonies of The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science for completing the undergraduate Monors research program. He is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and Mark Unkenholz (right), another award winning GW student from Maryland.

(Nabil Joseph Saade's home address is 6702 W. Forest Rd., Landover, MD)

Hometowns Copies

The George
Washington University Medical Center
Office of Public Relations
2300 Eye Street N.W.
Room 712
Washington, D.C.
20037
(202) 676-3415

ROSS HALL CALENDAR OF EVENTS

Week of May 23, 1983

Monday, May 23

5:00 pm

Pathology Research Seminars

"Hyperplasia of Pulmonary Neuroendocrine Cells"

Speaker: Ilona Linnoila, M.D.,

Laboratory of Pathology, National Cancer Institute, NIH

Room 561

Tuesday, May 24

12:00 noon

Physiology Seminar Series

"Antisecretory Effects of H1 Receptor Antagonists

on Intestinal Ion Transport Speaker: Dr. Philip L. Smith,

Assistant Professor of Physiology,

University of Kansas Medical Center

Room 401

Thursday, May 26

12:00 noon

Biochemistry Seminar

"Sodium and Chloride Transport in Tracheal

Membrane Vesicles"

Speaker: Dr. William P. Dubinsky,

Department of Physiology,

University of Texas Health Science

Center at Houston

Room 229

4:00 pm

Physiology Seminar Series

"Induced Differentiation of Murine Erythroleukemic

Cells In Vitro"

Speaker: Dr. Robert Corin,

Assistant Member,

Lab of Membrane Regulation,

Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center,

Cornell University,

School of Graduate Science

Room 401

Mark Robert Unkenholz (right) was honored at the May commencement of

The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science

for winning first place in the operations research and computational science's

Senior Design Award competition. He is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz

(left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and Nabil Saade (center), another award winning GW student from Maryland.

(Mark Unkenholz's home address is 11125 Easecrest Dr., Silver Spring, MD)

David Alan Saperstein (right) was honored at the May commencement of The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science for completing the requirements of the undergraduate honors research program. He is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and Jon Jannucci (center), another award winning GW student from Washington.

(David Alan Saperstein's home address is 2000 F Street, NW)

Katherine Hansen (left) received the Phi Delta Kappa Award in Teacher Education at the May commencement ceremonies of The George Washington University's School of Education and Human Development. She is pictured here with Dean Eugene Kelly Jr., (center) of the School of Education and Human Development and another GW award winner, Barbara Martin Evans (right).

(Katherine Hansen is the daughter of Orval and June Hansen, 5555 Little

Susan Marx (center) was honored at the May commencement of The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science for winning second place in computer science's Senior Design Award competition.
She is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and James Bonner (right), another award winning GW student from the Washington, D.C. area.

Ted Delianides (center) received a certificate of recognition at the May commencement of The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science. Mr. Delianides completed the requirements for the undergraduate honors research program, which was created to recognize and reward academically gifted students and offer them a chance to enrich their engineering education. He is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and Daniel Blocher (right), an award winning GW engineering student from Hanover, PA.

Alexis Devoney (right) received the Perry Botwin Award in Special Education at the May graduation ceremonies of George Washington University's School of Education and Human Development. She is pictured with Dean Eugene Kelly Jr., (left) of the School of Education and Human Development.

(Ms. Devoney is the daughter of Cathryn and Edward Devoney of 1509 Highland Dr., Silver Spring, MD)

Rosalind Lee (right) was honored at the May commencement ceremonies of
The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science
for winning first place in the electrical engineering's Senior Design Award competition. She is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and with Bernard Barron, (center) another award winning student from the Washington, D.C. area.

(Rosalind Lee's home address is 9917 Hillridge Dr., Kensington, MD)

Barbara Martin Evans (right) received the Pi Lamda Theta Award in Teacher Education at May graduation ceremonies at The George Washington University's School of Education and Human Development. She is pictured with Dean Eugene Kelly Jr., (center) of the School of Education and Human Development and another student award winner, Katherine Hansen (left) of Arlington, VA.

(Ms. Evans is the daughter of Francis T. Martin of 11028 Belton Street, Upper Marlboro, MD)

Daniel Blocher (right) won a number of honors at the May commencement ceremonies of The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science. Mr. Blocher won the Martin Mahler Prize in materials testing, second place in the civil engineering's Senior Design Award competition, and a certificate of recognition for completing the School of Engineering and Applied Science's undergraduate honors research program. He is pictured with Dean .Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and Ted Delianides (center), a student award winner from Alexandria, VA.

(Mr. Blocher's home address is 427 Baer Ave., Hanover, PA)

James Edmond Bonner (right) was honored at the May commencement of The George Washington University's School of Engineering and Applied Science for winning the Norman B. Ames Memorial Award. The award was established by friends of Professor Ames and is awarded annually to a graduating senior of the engineering school who is nominated by his fellow students as having made significant contributions to the students of the School of Engineering and Applied Science. He is pictured with Dean Harold Liebowitz (left) of the School of Engineering and Applied Science and Susan Marx (center), another award winning GW student from the Washington, D.C. area.

Office of Public Relations/Washington, D.C. 20052/(202) 676-6460

MAILING DATE: MAY 26, 1983

CONTACT: JANE LINGO

676-6460 (office) 234-3453 (evening)

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT FOR USE THROUGH MIDDAY JUNE 8

GW DIMOCK GALLERY -- LECTURE ON CHAGALL

(25 SECONDS)

There will be a free lecture on the artist Marc Chagall (shah-gahl) by George Washington University Assistant Professor of Art Melvin P. Laider on Wednesday, June 8th, at 6:30 p.m. in the lower lounge of Lisner Auditorium, 21st and H Streets, N.W. The lecture precedes the opening of an exhibition of Chagall (shah-gahl) graphics in the GW Dimock (DIM-uk) Gallery which adjoins the Lisner lower lounge.